

Reforming European and UK Financial Regulation

19 March 2012

Venue: Senate Room, The Senate House, University of London, Malet Street, London

12:30 – 5:00 pm

Speakers:

Sharon Bowles, MEP, Chairwoman of the European Parliament Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs

Professor Lord Eatwell, Queens' College, University of Cambridge

Lord McFaul of Alcluith

Michael Blair, QC, 3 Verulam Buildings, London

Professor Kern Alexander, Member of the Expert Panel on Financial Services, European Parliament and Specialist Adviser to the Parliamentary Joint Committee on the draft Financial Services Bill

Alastair Evans, Head, Government Policy and Affairs, Lloyd's General Counsel Division

Professor Rosa Lastra, Queen Mary, University of London

Paul Sharma, Director, Prudential Policy, the Financial Services Authority and FSA member of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision

Programme –

12:00-12:30 Refreshments

12:30-1:30 The European Parliament's role in regulatory reform and financial legislation

Chair: Professor Lord Eatwell, Queens' College, University of Cambridge

Sharon Bowles, MEP, Chairwoman of the European Parliament Committee on Economic and Monetary Affairs. Chair: Professor Lord Eatwell, University of Cambridge

1:30-2:30 Implementing European Bank Regulation

Chair: Michael Blair, QC

Paul Sharma, Director, the Financial Services Authority and UK representative on the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision

Professor Rosa Lastra, Queen Mary, University of London

2:30-3:30 Tea/coffee break

3:00-4:00 UK regulatory restructuring – the challenges ahead

Chair: Lord McFall of Alcluith

Alastair Evans, Head, Government Policy and Affairs, Lloyd's General Counsel Division

Professor Kern Alexander, Member of the Expert Panel on Financial Services, European Parliament, and Specialist Adviser to the UK Parliament's Joint Committee on the draft Financial Services Bill

4:00-4:30 concluding remarks

4:30-5:00 Reception and end of programme

Registration is essential and admittance will be by registration only.

This event is free for academics and students from Queen Mary and the Institute of Advanced Legal Studies, University of London. To register, contact:

Nikoletta.kleftouri@postgrad.sas.ac.uk

Everyone else will be charged at the British Institute of Comparative and International Law rate. Please see their website for fee and to register <http://www.biicl.org/events/>